

JLT in the making

November 4, 2009

Nakheel did the master planning for the Jumeirah Lakes Tower (JLT) project, which is fully-owned and managed by the Dubai Multi Commodities Centre Authority (DMCCA).

A few months ago, decisions were taken to merge all the property arms that fell under Dubai World. Hence the project was transferred from Dubai Multi Commodities Centre (DMCC) to Nakheel.

Thirty-five towers have received the building completion certificates so far. The figure is expected to go up to 50 by end-2009 and 70 by end of 2010.

"About another 10 buildings or so will be complete by 2011 or maybe early 2012," said Ahmed bin Sulayem, Executive Chairman of DMCC.

Here's a photo spread by Emirates Business on the progress on JLT construction.
